About the Court Improvement Program

The West Virginia Court Improvement Program (CIP) is funded by the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF) and the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia. The CIP Oversight Board is chaired by the Honorable Gary L. Johnson, Chief Judge of the 28th Judicial Circuit. The Board and its subcommittees are multidisciplinary.

Judge Johnson and Senior Status Judge Robert B. Stone co-chair the training committee that planned the annual cross-training conferences.

CIP aims to promote safety, timely permanency, well-being, and due process for children and families in the child protection and juvenile systems.

A Few Ways to Help Children in State Care

Consider fostering or adopting a child in care.

Visit <http://missionwv.org/> for more information.

Write cards to children in care or in the MODIFY program.

For children in care, contact Carrie Stalnaker at 304-356-4587.

For young adults in the MODIFY program, contact Tina Faber at (304) 720-3200, ext. 227. For more information about MODIFY, visit <http://modify.cedwvu.org/factsheets/modify-program.php>.

Donate new or gently used luggage to the Carry On Campaign, so that children do not have to carry their belongings in garbage bags. Visit <http://missionwv.org/carry-on-campaign/> for more information.

Report suspected child abuse or neglect to 1-800-352-6513, and to the child's multidisciplinary treatment team (MDT).

Did you know a child is never too old for permanency?

There is no age limit for adoption— even adults can be adopted!

It is also possible for parents' rights to be restored if a child is not adopted, the child or Department requests restoration, the parent has had a material change in circumstances, and the restoration is in the child's best interests. See W.Va. Code § 49-4-606(c).

A growing family celebrates their adoption day with Judge Eric H. O'Briant in Logan County.
